Wasteful waste

Public gaze on waste, read garbage, particularly in Mysuru and rest of the country as well as the vast space all over the earth in general seems to have faded, but the mounting mass of the undesirable stuff continues to be found wherever one cares to notice. Even the WhatsApp column of this daily, regularly hosting the pictures (with appropriate caption) of dirt strewn by Mysureans in public spaces across the city, including their own neighbourhoods, painstakingly captured by citizens with concern for Swachh Mysuru seems to have earned a reprieve, thanks to the cacophony of the vote-seekers, the wannabe law-makers of the nation. In addition to littering rubbish with gay abandon, the obnoxious habit of well-marked sections among the city's residents as well as its floating population of about one lakh a day, those with even a semblance of civic sense have to bear the brunt of stench created by the former class of residents seen spitting and urinating without caring two hoots about the damages they are doing to the health of Mysureans.

We are enlightened by scholars that there is hardly any word in Sanskrit language which doesn't have at least two meanings, one not always close to the other. However, academics enjoy a sense of fascination by extending the meaning of terms in English language beyond the grasp of lay people. One such term, waste, fulfills that feature, while dwelling on the waste of the country's human resources, lying unharnessed to a great extent.

The sweat and toil behind bringing up the heirloom in every family cannot be described in words and so also the agony of families which bear the brunt of children not crossing the bar as they advance to adulthood. That apart, given the stiff competition at school stage and further in the race of getting a foothold in the matter of a comfortable livelihood, only the competitive make it. The tallest blade of grass is the first to be cut by the mowing tool, according to an Assyrian proverb of several centuries vintage. While the society is the unmistakable host of human resources, both economically productive in one part and burdensome in the other, namely wasteful waste, it is appalling that it is the same society looking the other way, neglecting its onus of salvaging its own latter section. Managing waste in its commonly accepted perception and the wasteful waste of human resources are different kettles of fish. Even as the administrations of civic bodies everywhere are battling with the former kind of waste, there are yet no failsafe ways of addressing the other.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Cuts in government spending reduces aggregate demand, which leads to a fall in output, lowering gross domestic product and private income. This creates a multiplier effect as a fall in private consumption translates to a further fall in output. The greater the propensity to consume out of current income, in other words, the lower the propensity to save, and the greater is the multiplier effect. This fall in aggregate demand also deters investments. On the other hand, an increase in taxes negatively impacts output, though to a lesser degree. Higher taxes reduce personal disposable income thereby translating to lower consumption. But as consumers spend only a fraction of their disposable income, they also tend to save, so higher taxes have a smaller impact on output. Thus, under this model, austerity implemented through spending cuts is more harmful than that implemented through raising taxes. —Ishan Bakshi in Business Standard

Sick of waiting, man makes road by hand

Nairobi: Tired of waiting for the Government to lay the road, a 45-year-old man from rural Kenya is being hailed a hero by his community after he single-handedly made a one-mile road through a bushy area in only six days, using only basic tools.

Nicholas Muchami, who earns a living doing odd jobs during the day and working as a guard at night, volunteered to single-handedly dig a 2 km stretch of road, using only farm tools. Working tirelessly for six straight days, the 45-year-old man managed to clear 1.5 km of the bushy area, creating a dirt road just wide enough for cars to drive on. Even though he still has half a kilometer left before he completes his task, his achievement has already made international news headlines.

Artist turns coffee stains into coffee monsters

Berlin: German designer Stefan Kuhnigk has been turning random coffee stains into adorable coffee monstors. Stefan recalls looking at the stain his cup of dark espresso left on a piece of paper and it looking back at him as if saying "Draw me, draw me, draw meeee!". So he did just that, and create his very first Coffee Monster. The next day, he thought back on this little accident that had challenged him to get creative, and decided he could replicate the coffee spill every day as an exercise in creativity.

When he started using a spoon to spill coffee on sheets of paper every day, his colleagues looked at him like he was nuts, but they didn't know about the artworks that lay hidden in those random coffee stains.

Stefan has created almost 600 Coffee Monsters, as well as a back story for each one of them. They may be monsters, but they're the cute kind you'd expect to find in a children's book.

Death row convict flees from Hindalga jail

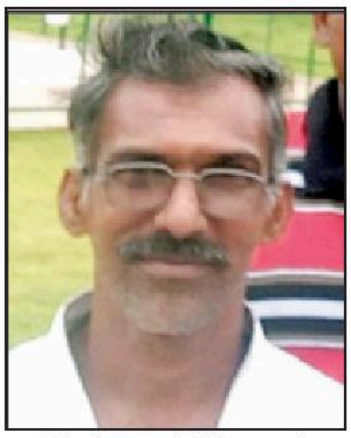
Murugesh was awarded capital punishment for killing five persons at Harale village in Kollegal on May 11, 2015

Belagavi, Apr.27 (DM)- A convict on death row, who was awarded capital punishment for the brutal murder of five persons at a Kollegal village in Chamarajanagar district, has escaped from Hindalga Jail in Belagavi where he was lodged.

Murugesh alias Kannamucchi, 51, a native of Salem in Tamil Nadu, is the escaped convict.

Murugesh was arrested by Kollegal Rural Police for the brutal killing of five persons, including an 8-year-old girl at Harale village in Kollegal on May 11, 2015.

The Chamarajanagar District & Sessions Court found Murugesh guilty of the heinous crime and awarded him death penalty in 2017, following which he was shifted from Chamarajanagar



Murder convict Murugesh

Jail to Hindalga Jail in Belagavi, where most of the convicts who are awarded the capital punishment by Courts across the State are lodged.

Now, Murugesh has escaped from high security Hindalga prison by climbing the high wall of the prison using a pole on the night of Apr.22. Murugesh is said to have timed his escape when the jail had fewer security staff, as many jail staff were deputed for poll duty. The jail authorities suspect that some of the jail inmates may have helped Murugesh to scale the wall and escape.

This is not the first time that such an incident has occurred at high security Hindalga jail, as earlier too on Aug.28, 2010 and in 1974, a few convicts had managed to escape from the jail in the same manner as Murugesh has done now.

Meanwhile, the Chamarajanagar District Jail Superintendent, in a press release, has appealed people to call Ph: 08226-222335 or 08226-222398 in case they come across any clues about the said murder convict Murugesh.

High Court stays order on nullifying membership of City Corporator

Mysuru, Apr.27 (RK&DM)- The Karnataka High Court on Friday stayed the order of the Principal District and Sessions Judge, Mysuru, that nullified the membership of BJP Corporator Guru Vinayaka who was elected to Mysuru City Corporator (MCC) from Ward 18.

Guru Vinayaka

Justice S. Sunil Dutt Yadav granted stay to the Mysuru Court order after Guru Vinayaka had moved the HC.

R. Ravindra Kumar of the Congress, who was defeated by Guru Vinayaka of the BJP in last year's MCC elections, had approached the Mysuru District Sessions Court challenging the election of Guru Vinayaka from Ward 18 after accusing the BJP Corporator of furnishing a fake caste certificate.

In his petition, Ravindra Kumar alleged that Guru Vinayaka belonged to Parivara community, but had furnished a fake caste certificate declaring himself as a Nayaka.

Mysuru Principal District & Sessions Judge S.K. Vontigodi, who heard Ravindra Kumar's petition, ordered the Election Commission to disqualify Guru Vinayaka's membership of the MCC.

Later Guru Vinayaka moved the High Court challenging the Mysuru Court's order.

The High Court order has brought some relief to Guru Vinayaka, who was facing disqualification.

Heighten vigil, cops tell hotels, religious heads

Lanka Terror Attacks: Hoteliers asked to install metal detectors, barricades to frisk visitors

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (RK&BCT)- In the wake of serial blasts in Sri Lanka, the city Police yesterday conducted separate meetings with representatives of various bodies including religious heads, mall and hotel establishments. Over 200 members attended the day-long meeting that was chaired by DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj.

At the meeting, Muthuraj and other Police officials categorically told hotels and business establishments to keep a strict watch on visitors and people who take accommodation in hotels and lodges. They were asked to take precautionary measures by installing high-quality Closed Circuit TV cameras, barricades and also frisk the visitors with metal detectors. The luggage should also be inspected with the help of dedicated scanning machines and if suspicious, baggage must be opened to examine the contents, they were told.

Muthuraj asked the participants to take up security measures at places of worship, shopping malls, marriage halls or hotels to keep such terror attacks at bay. They must also keep barricades at vantage points to prevent free movement and were told to get Police assistance during mass gatherings like celebrations or festivals or during any event at prominent places.

Hoteliers were asked to mandatorily take identity and address proof and make their own background checks before letting visitors enter the rooms. Even after giving accommodation, their movements must be watched.

There are more than 203 lodges and eight star hotels in Mysuru. Hotel owners and managers have been asked to report to the Police in case any person refuses to undergo a security check or luggage check or refuses to provide address and ID proof. (See COPS on page 17)

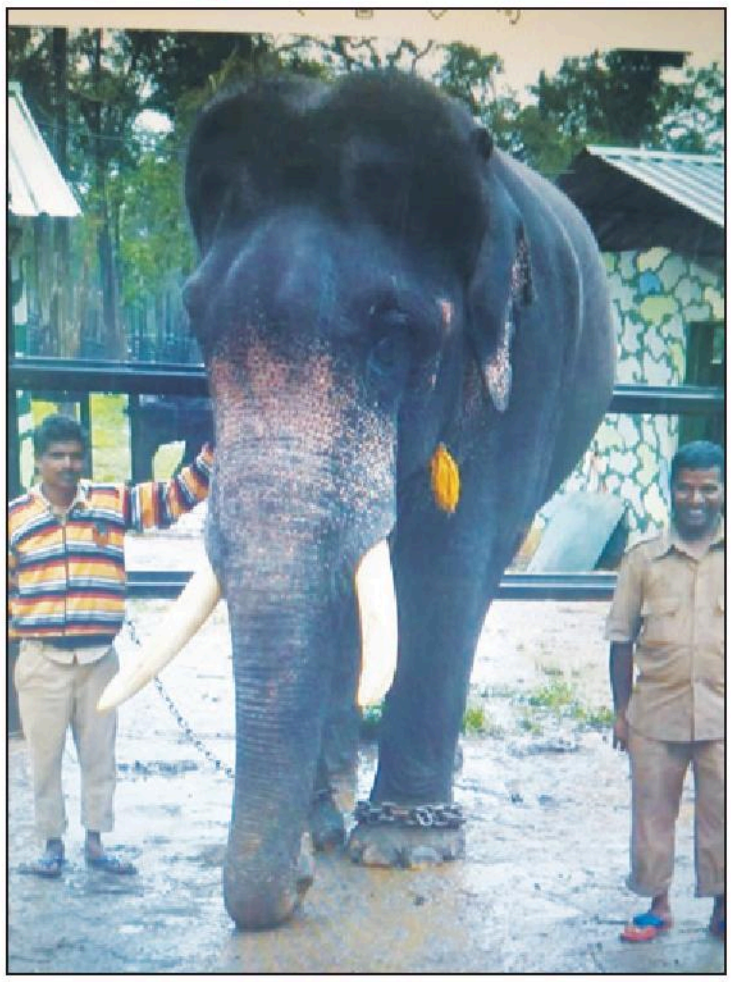
Pall of gloom over Drona's sudden death

Mysuru Dasara will miss both Senior and Junior Dronas



Mysuru, Apr.27 (MTY&BCT)- Mysuru Dasara will miss Drona. The male elephant died of a suspected heart attack yesterday at Mathigodu Elephant Camp near Thithimathi in Kodagu inside the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve. The end of the 39-year-old jumbo came when it was quenching its thirst.

Drona first participated in Dasara in 2017 and continued in 2018 and was considered as a worthy successor for the older Drona of the Balle Elephant Camp, one of the lead Dasara elephants of the Jamboo Savari, that had carried the Golden Howdah for a record 19 years prior to his death in 1998 when the tusker came in contact with a high tension wire while foraging for fodder. The senior Drona was 62 years when he died.

As per the elephant camp authorities, the incident took place at around 11 am when the tusker went to drink water from a nearby water tank but suddenly collapsed and died. Drona had reportedly been showing sign of illness since yesterday morning.

Mahout Ravi and Kavadi Gundu and forest workers, who saw Drona faint while he was drinking water, rushed to give him first aid, but in vain, sources said.

Drona died young, considering that the average lifespan of elephants in captivity is 60 years.

"The elephant had a heart attack. The exact reason will be determined after the post-mortem," Dr. Mujeeb, veterinary doctor of Nagarahole Elephant Camp, said.

Drona was in the camp for the last six years and was captured as a rogue elephant in 2014, in Aluru forest range (Yesaluru and Maadalli forest) in Hassan district and was tamed later in Moorkal camp of Nagarahole National Park. After taming, he was sent to Mathigodu camp, where he was named "Drona" by the Mahouts, for his magnificent looks and intelligence. In fact, Drona was tamed in just two years.

Later on, Drona was used to capture and tame other rogue elephants. His services were utilised in Hassan, Chamarajanagar, Kollegal and Biligirirangana Betta forests. Drona has also helped in capturing tigers.

Drona's caretakers describe him as "quiet and gentle." Drona was 2.69 metres tall, 3.40 metres long and weighed nearly 4,330 kgs, according to camp authorities. Drona had a wide back and this had made him a fit choice to carry the Golden Howdah.

The Forest Department had already decided that Drona would succeed the present Howdah Elephant Arjuna in another four to five years. In 2017 and last year, the tusker had moved majestically along with other elephants, bringing cheer among Drona's caretakers and Dept. officials.

A pall of gloom has descended on Mathigodu elephant camp following Drona's demise.

Veterinarian D.N. Nagaraju said that he was shocked to hear about Drona's death. He said that samples of viscera have been sent to the laboratory and the cause of death will be revealed in one or two days.

JD(S) Legislature Party meeting tomorrow

Kumaraswamy

Bengaluru, Apr.27 (KMS&DM)- In order to ward off any threats from BJP's 'Operation Lotus', Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) has called a JD(S) Legislature Party (LP) meeting here on Apr.28.

Kumaraswamy, who became alert after Congress MLA from Belagavi, Ramesh Jarkiholi, raised a banner of revolt yet again recently, aims to keep the flock of his JD(S) Legislators.

Kumaraswamy is said to have received tip-offs on some of his party Legislators' likely defection once the LS poll results are out.

The meeting is also meant to express thanks to the party Legislators for having campaigned tirelessly for the coalition candidates in all the LS seats from the State.

Teasing wildlife invites fine at Bandipur National Park

Gundlupet, Apr.27 (SG&US)- Officials of Forest Department have begun to levy fines on tourists who are found teasing wild animals while passing through Bandipur National Park.

The Department staff are on a regular patrol on the Ooty Road and Kerala Road falling under the Project Tiger Division closely monitoring the passing vehicles of tourists. Stopping a vehicle illegally in the forest regions attracts a fine of Rs.1,000. The recent rains has increased the greenery and replenished the water bodies in forest drawing wildlife to either quench their thirst or just have a cold water dip in hot summer.

Incidents of tourists stopping their vehicles on road clicking pictures of wildlife and teasing them are said to be on the rise.

The infuriated animals, to vent their rage, sometimes block the road or even charge the vehicles.

Taking into view all the happenings, the Department has begun to levy fines on offenders, according to Project Tiger Director T. Balachandra.

Free distribution of bird box tomorrow

Mysuru, Apr. 27- Jeev Daya Jain Charity will freely distribute bird boxes and bird feeders near Kukkarahalli Lake on Sunday, Apr. 28 (tomorrow) between 6.30 am and 8.30 am. This is being done to revive the sparrow population according to Kokila Jain, founder Jeev Daya Jain Charity.

Setting up a nesting box in your yard can provide an essential nesting area for the members of many species of birds. It is also a great way to provide birds a place to raise young. Adding a nesting box to your habitat will not only benefit native bird species like sparrows, but also give you an opportunity to monitor and enjoy birds. For more details, call 9449066118

Install traffic signal light at B.M. Hospital Junction

Sir,

This has reference to the news item, "Defunct traffic signal lights repair works begin in city" (SOM dated Apr.24). I have a few observations in this regard. The unfortunate situation is many traffic lights are present only in principle and very often refuse to work. What with our youth showing scant regard to traffic rule, even when the lights operate; you can imagine the mayhem when the lights don't work.

Another interesting point is the absence of the Traffic Policeman when lights don't operate, particularly at night times, but mysteriously appearing when they work. Most times you have to seriously search for the uniformed officer (if present) who will be away from the actual scene, talking to a friend or chatting on his mobile and absolutely apathetic about the duty assigned.

There is perhaps no surprise check by a superior official to correct the erring man on duty. Signal jumping, overtaking from the wrong side, three or some times even four people (!) on a two-wheeler is on the rise. Messaging (forget about talking on mobile, everybody does it), road rage and such other antics go on unchecked.

We still do not understand why and how the lights can be switched off before 9 pm when the streets will have full stream. We all know about the shortage of manpower etc., but again why should a taxpayer's life be put to risk because of failure in administrative process.

Now, there is an urgent need to install traffic lights at the Hunsur Road junction near B.M. Hospital. Any delay may result in loss of life or limb as the traffic is very heavy. Also many educational institutions and offices are in the vicinity and it is a Highway, with public transportation in full swing always.

On behalf of thousands of motorists, I appeal to the Officers of the Department to educate the road users very strictly, either through persuasion or through penalty so high that he or she will think not twice but many times before disobeying public laws.

Superhero Obsession

The movie, Avengers : Endgame was released yesterday and ticket bookings were "ferocious and enormous" as described by CEO of the Multiplex chain PVR Pictures Ltd. Some theatres even ran 24x7 to accommodate the demand!

In recent times superhero movies have become an obsession and all are afflicted. Yesterday parents gave permission to their children to skip college to watch the first show and adults went to bed early so they could be fresh for the early morning show. Even in our small city, people's urge to watch this movie on the first day was "ferocious and enormous."

Every one enjoys a good movie or a book but constantly talking about it when among people who don't watch such movies or read such books can be irritating and is bad manners. One especially sees this bad habit among "franchise obsessed" movie fans. I have been among them and I have felt left out and sometimes insulted.

For example, once I was among Potter-heads (that's what Harry Potter fans call themselves) they were, as usual talking about Harry Potter and I was feeling like a pot-head, as everything was going over my head. When I mentioned it was bad manners to indulge in non-inclusive topics, one of the girls pointed her fingers at me and said Evanesco ! Her friend giggled and told me that it was a spell to make one vanish ! She had asked me to shut up and leave in Harry Potter language !

And she was in her mid-30s! What is happening to older people?! Is this the new mid-life crisis? Where grown men and women obsess over superhero movies and a teen magician?

Star Trek fans are the worse. They are the most vexatious of all "franchisee movie" fans. They cannot stop talking about the various plots and greet each other with that 'Vulcan Salute' which by the way is on the WhatsApp emoji list ! These fans are so hi-brow that they even have their own language called Klingon.

Speaking of Star Trek here is a true story. I once was boarding a flight in Los Angeles USA late at night. As I was waiting I noticed a very grumpy and a very red looking Caucasian man walking towards me with a sombre looking lady in his arm. It was William Shatner, Captain Kirk from Star Trek TV series.

Excited I did the only thing I knew about Star Trek. I gave him the Vulcan Salute as I had seen Star Trek fans do it in the US while saying "Live long and prosper." He looked at me grumpily and simply said "You got it wrong" and walked past. In my excitement instead of a Vulcan Salute I had made a horn sign like in a rock concert.

Avengers : Endgame

Vulcan Salute

Indian Spiderman

Now, what makes most of Indian Marvel comic fans a tad bit silly is that most of them have not read the comics, instead they have gone straight to the movies. This makes their fan frenzy and obsessive conversations about Marvel's portfolio of characters a bit insincere and put on.

That is why Comic Convention aka Comic Con in India is more about playing 'dress up' and hunting for Instagram moments than actually getting into character. This, of course, does not hold good for Harry Potter and Lord of the Rings fans, they read and they know what they are talking about.

In fact, Harry Potter and Lord of the Rings have inculcated a reading habit among teens and adults alike. Parents and children seriously discuss these books and characters. The children get a philosophical perspective of the story which only a parent can see and parents get an interesting perspective about characters only a youngling notices. Overall it's good for the mind and makes for great family time.

While we do appreciate fabulous prose and imagination of J.K. Rowling and J.R.R. Tolkien, may be it is time for some of us to explore the world of graphic novels. And in recent times there have been some fantastic ones.

Like many I too had forgotten how illustrations and prose can come together to form a visual, intellectual and emotional treat until I read Persepolis by Iranian illustrator and writer Marjane Satrapi.

In India too there is a quiet demand for mature adult graphic novels. No, I am not talking about sexy Savitha Babi comics, I am talking about graphic novels such as Barn Owl's Wondrous Capers by Sarnath Banerjee and Kari by Amruta Patil to name a few. Even comics have come a long way, from Commander Dhruv by Raj Comics to Devi by Liquid Comics — they are all comics with good story line and illustrations.

Now, thank god Avengers has come to an end. After 10 years and 22 movies, I have had enough of watching grown women go on drooling over 'Thor' and children going on and on about Iron Man suits. I was tired of hearing grown men repeat dialogues of a talking raccoon and being enamoured by a green woman.

May be someone will now make a movie about an Indian superhero. But then normal Indian heroes are superheroes. Remember how Inspector Chulbul Pandey's bulging muscles ripped through his uniform when he got angry? So I guess Flying Jatt and Krrish are the best we can do for now.

But I am a bit worried that all this ticket sales is attracting attention of American Studios and Publishers. Why? Well, remember when Spiderman did well in India and in order to attract more Indian audience they made an Indian Spiderman named Pavitr Prabhakar sporting a dhoti and swinging around Mumbai fighting crime?

They didn't stop there. Original Spiderman, Peter Parker's aunt and uncle were Aunt May and Uncle Ben; in the Indian version it is Maya Aunty and Bhim Uncle! American Peter Parker's girlfriend was Mary Jane and Pavitr's is... Meera Jain. Really, is this necessary?! Though the comic is well-designed, it still makes one cringe.

So let's hope that the American Publishers, in order to please the Indian audience, don't turn Harry Potter into a young teen Jadugar from Punjab named Hari Putter and ruin it for the Potter-heads.

Fitness for Free

Open air gyms in several parks across city are a big hit. The Mysuru City Corporation that set up first such gym at a park near Dr. Puttaraja Gavai Stadium in J.P. Nagar received overwhelming response from the public and now every Corporator or MLA is demanding gym equipment inside parks within their jurisdiction. Some of these open gyms have a good view where health freaks make a beeline in the early hours of the day or in the evenings to get their daily fitness dose as well as enjoy the gentle breeze while working out. This Weekend Star Supplement takes a walk around such parks where fitness is offered for free.

Gyms with a Green view

Lingambudhi Lake Park

By Ramesh Kebbehundi

It's 5.30 pm on a weekday and many flock to parks near their homes while a group of older men and women make their way to the open gym. It is a popular facility in parks that have gymming equipment and people wait in turns to get a chance to exercise and shed that extra fat. And these gyms are packed to capacity on weekends and holidays.

Parks are the city's new gyms. In a country where lifestyle diseases are a growing concern, easy access to neighbourhood parks with fitness equipment seems almost too good to be true. These gyms introduce people to this truly holistic fitness experience inside parks with state-of-the-art exercise equipment.

These free park gyms offer fresh air when compared to gymming inside the four walls. Studies claim that exercising outdoors has additional health benefits which help lower blood pressure and stress levels. According to a recent study, exercise in natural environments was found to be linked to greater feelings of revitalisation, increased energy and positive engagement.

Not only men but women too use the free gym facility as seen here at Nivedithanagar Park.

A big hit among denizens

Open air gymnasiums that have been set up by Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) two years back has turned out be a big hit. More than 30 parks have such gyms and a majority of them are in Krishnaraja Assembly segment and others in Chamaraja segment that have been developed under MLA Local Area Development Fund.

Such gyms have been set up at parks in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage, Bogadi 2nd Stage, Lingambudhi Lake Park, Nivedithanagar S.R Subba Rao Park, Sharadevinagar, Cheluvamba Park, Vidyaranyapuram, Jayalakshmipuram, and Javaregowda Park in Saraswathipuram, Brindavan Extension, Gokulam Third Stage, Nandagokula Park and Thaponandana Park in Kuvempunagar.

Standard equipment

Open air gyms have equipment including elliptical exerciser, single pole rowing, chest press, Tai Chi wheel, abs trainer, pull up bar, parallel up bar, Roman rings, air-walker, sit up-benches, air-swing, twister, glider, push-up and pull-up chair, hip-raise bar, big shoulder wheel, spinner, bench with fixed dumbbell and weightlifters among others.

MCC has installed 6 to 11 equipment depending upon the size of the park at a cost of Rs. 2 lakh to Rs. 9 lakh. However, visitors have to train on their own as there won't be any gym instructors.

Freestyle Gymming...

Switch over from traditional gyms

Many Mysureans are ditching air-conditioned gyms and switching to open air gyms for better health as lack of exposure to sunlight due to indoor work culture is a leading cause for vitamin 'D' deficiency among many working professionals. Open air gyms have given them an option to work out in the open and soak in sunlight.

With gyms under private ownership unaffordable for many, MCC developed this concept of open air gyms which was first introduced in New Delhi. Sources told Star of Mysore that the first such gym was developed at a park near Dr. Puttaraja Gavai Stadium in J.P. Nagar and four workout machines were installed.

After a bit of exercising with equipment, women at Srirampura Park opt for freestyle steps.

MCC tries hard to meet demand

Following overwhelming response, MCC introduced gyms in other parks also. There are more than 416 parks in all 65 wards. Though MCC has received applications from Corporators and MLAs to set up open air gymnasiums in their parks, MCC is not able to meet their demands owing to lack of funds, scarcity of staff to maintain parks and gymnasiums.

These are user-friendly with easy-to-operate equipment. It won't require any shelter and can endure any weather. MCC has also set up such gymnasiums in the open space under High-Tension lines in Brindavan Extension near Gokulam and turned such areas into parks with walking paths for residents under Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT).

As about 20-km of fenced open spaces under High-Tension lines are left unused, the MCC has developed parks in Ramakrishnanagar, Bogadi, Hebbal, Nivedithanagar, CFTRI Layout, and N.R. Mohalla.

Fun and engaging approach

When the city's first open gym was established at Puttaraja Gavai Park in J.P. Nagar, there were not many takers for it. But within a few days, the gym had a steady stream of enthusiasts. Now around 500 persons including women, children and elders exercise in the gym regularly.

"This simple, fun and engaging approach to exercise in open air is helping residents directly address obesity epidemic. We started it on a pilot basis and received tremendous response from the public. Now we are looking to expand it to other parks and open spaces across the city," says MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag.

No time restrictions

The best part is that there are no time restrictions. "I step out of home whenever I get the time off my toddler and take a quick walk along and find time for some workout," says Poojitha of Sharadadevinagar. For many like Poojitha, open air gyms have come as a blessing. Easy and free accessibility to these gyms may even entice the uninitiated residents into leading a healthier lifestyle.

Interestingly, it is not just the middle-aged or senior citizens who are taking to these open air gyms. While a majority of youngsters still prefer high-powered and air-conditioned gyms, a good many of them are seeking to make the best of these open fitness zones that is full of light and open air.

Refreshing green

The greenery surrounding you is very refreshing. I usually take a 20-minute walk and then head to the open gym area for an hour's workout," says Prasannakumar, a 21-year-old resident of Gobbalimara Circle in J.P. Nagar and a regular visitor to Puttaraja Gavai Park.

For senior citizens, particularly, these gyms have helped in expanding their physical outdoor activities. "Earlier, I used to only go for walks. Now I spend time doing mild workouts. I feel much lighter and energetic," says 62-year-old Lakshmidevamma, a resident of Saraswathipuram and a regular visitor to Javaregowda Park.

Poor Maintenance

A child being guided to use an equipment at Taponandana Park.

One of the main issues in open air gyms, however, has been maintenance. Often, fitness freaks unknowingly damage the equipment by improper handling.

"It is a great initiative by the MCC and is always enjoyable to work out in the open. I left my indoor gym and am now working outdoors. It is more cheerful and I can see that the authorities are not maintaining the equipment well," said Umesh of Gokulam.

"We have introduced open air gyms and many people are benefiting from them. We need to ensure quality service and we are taking steps to that effect. There is a need for proper maintenance of fitness equipment for which we have decided to take the help of an agency," said an MCC official.

MCC Superintending Engineer Suresh Babu (presently Superintending Engineer in Mysuru Urban Development Authority), who oversaw the installation of such gyms, said such facility has drawn overwhelming public response.

Closed-door gyms require electricity, regular maintenance and other facilities while open gyms don't have these constraints and they can be used by everyone. There's no facility for physical exercise for middle-aged persons, children and senior citizens. Youths who can afford commercial gyms go there but others cannot. For such people, an open gym will be helpful, he added.

Lauding the efforts of MCC, retired bank employee Narasimhaswamy said that open air gymnasium was one of the best ideas to be implemented. "It helped me to cure back pain. Instead of paying hefty fee to private gyms, elders and women can gain benefit from these gyms," he said.

Demand for open air gymnasiums

Brindavan Park

Corporator SBM Manju said that the gym at Brindavan Park is a hub for walkers and joggers and caters to fitness needs. People of all ages are making use of the facility. "Residents of my ward are demanding such gyms in other parks. Now, all Corporators want to have open gym facility in their wards. Considering the demand, MCC had sent a proposal seeking funds from the government," he added. Being an MCC-nominated Member to MUDA, Manju said that he was also making efforts to bring funds to set up gyms from MUDA. Focus will be on development of spaces under High-Tension line as parks.

World Veterinary Day today

'Value of Vaccination'

By Dr. C.S. Arun, MVSc

World Veterinary Day is being celebrated globally every year on the last Saturday of April. This was started in the year 2000 by World Veterinary Association to highlight and promote the noble services performed by the Veterinarians in safeguarding the health of animals and thereby the human beings.

To celebrate this day, each year a different theme is chosen and this year it is 'Value of Vaccination.' How apt it is in the current scenario ! The universe is being plagued with myriad diseases, old and new, causing heavy losses to the livestock and human population. The best way to avoid this loss is through keeping the diseases at bay.

Various measures adopted to prevent the diseases are hygiene, balanced nutrition, active life-style and VACCINATION.

Vaccination is the process of eliciting immunity in the living being through introduction of an antigen, that is, a particle which stimulates the immune response. This antigen may be a live, weakened organism, an inactivated/killed organism, a part of the organism or the metabolites produced by the organism. On entry into the animal's body, the antigen induces the production of immune mediators from cells and/or antibodies through humoral immune response to neutralise the invading pathogen. Immune response is specific to the antigen introduced into the system.

All animals on birth will have an innate immunity acquired passively in mother's womb and some transferred through colostrums in early part of their life. This immunity lasts for a few weeks after which the newborn will be highly susceptible to diseases. At this stage, they have to be vaccinated to induce active immunity. In case of dogs and cats, this period falls in the age group of 4-8 weeks, around which time their first vaccination has to be scheduled.

To enhance adequate immunity, vaccination has to be repeated several times through repeated 'booster' doses. Schedule of vaccination typically depends upon the prevalence of the diseases in that particular area. Local veterinarian will be the best guide to advice in this regard.

Vaccines are critical to animals' health. They are essential tools of preventive veterinary medicine, promotion of animal health and welfare and thereby reducing the risk of zoonotic diseases in human beings.

Vaccination reduces the need for antimicrobial usage and hence decreases the risk of emerging problem of anti microbial resistance. So get your pet vaccinated today.

IMPORTANT THINGS TO BE REMEMBERED

- Only healthy animals have to be vaccinated.
- Until completion of the vaccination schedule, young ones should not be exposed to the pathogens.
- Vaccination schedule has to be followed strictly.
- Vaccine should be of good quality.
- Maintenance of 'cold chain' during transportation and storage of vaccine is very essential.
- Aseptic procedures have to be followed during vaccination.

Vaccination schedule for dogs

6th week	DHLPPiC primary vaccine
8th week	Anti Rabies primary vaccine
9th week	DHLPPiC booster vaccine
11th week	Anti Rabies booster vaccine
12th week	DHLPPiC 2nd booster vaccine

Thereafter, every year DHLPPiC and Anti-Rabies vaccine have to be repeated.

Vaccination schedule for cats

8 weeks	Pan leucopenia, Calci virus, Herpes virus and Rabies vaccine
12 weeks	As above
Annual	As above

Rally marks World Malaria Day

Mysuru to be Malaria-free by 2020

Mysuru, Apr.27 (US&PM)- Marking 'World Malaria Day-2019', the Department of Health and Family Welfare and District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Office had organised an awareness rally on Malaria eradication in city on Apr.25 with the theme 'Zero Malaria Starts With Me.'

Over 100 nursing students and officers and staff of the organising Departments took part in the rally carrying placards with meaningful messages on eradication of Malaria.

The rally was flagged off by DHO Dr. R. Venkatesh at the Primary Health Centre (PHC) in Rajendranagar which passed through Kuri Mandi Circle and Rajendranagar Circle before returning to the starting point.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Venkatesh said that Malaria was under total control in the district and the mission is to bring it to zero level of cases.

Malaria-free by 2020

With the district reporting nil cases of Malaria for the last two years, the Health Department is hopeful of making the district Malaria-free by 2020.

"The Health Department officials had collected blood samples of 1.47 lakh people till the date, but no positive cases have been reported. Similarly, the authorities had tested 5.56 lakh blood samples in 2017 and 6.16 samples in 2018 and no positive cases were reported," said District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Officer Dr. S. Chidambara, who also spoke on the occasion.

According to available statistics, 77 cases of Malaria were reported in 2015-16. Of 4.6 lakh samples tested in 2015, 34 were positive and 43 cases were positive among 4.70 lakh samples tested in 2016. However, no deaths due to Malaria were reported since 2012.

If no cases were reported, the district will be declared as Malaria-free by 2020, according to the authorities. Several rounds of awareness drive and on time response has helped in eradicating the disease.

The Department had conducted programmes such as Malaria Clinic, an educative programme, they said.

Awareness programme held on 'Management of Dementia'

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (US&RKB)- Alzheimer's and Related Disorders Society of India (ARDSI), Mysuru Chapter, in association with the Department of Health and Family Welfare, Department of Preventive and Social Medicine, MMC&RI and Government College of Nursing, Mysuru had organised an awareness programme on 'Management of Dementia' at MMC&RI premises here recently.

About 100 nursing students and Community Health Officers participated.

Inaugurating the programme, MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr.C.P. Nanjaraj said that dementia or loss of memory hitherto was common after 60 years but is affecting much younger people now. He opined that doctors and nurses should handle such patients with care.

He pointed out that Sept. 21 is being observed as World Alzheimer's Day to bring the disease under important care.

Releasing the commemorative posters on the occasion, MMC&RI Principal Dr. K.R. Dakshayani expressed happiness in ARDSI adopting a few villages to create awareness on the disease.

HoD of Community Medicine Dr. Mudassir Azeez Khan, ARDSI, Mysuru Chapter President Dr. Hanumanthachar Joshi, Joint Secretary Dr. Nandaprakash and others were present.

Series of thefts
in K.R. Nagar, H.D. Kote

K.R. Nagar, Apr.27 (KTR&SR)- Thieves made away with cash, gold ornaments and other valuables after breaking the locks of various houses in a series of thefts occurred at Vinayaka Layout near Cheernahalli Road in the town on Thursday night.

The incident took place when the owners of the houses were out of station and enjoying their holidays. The culprits looted the houses of Taluk Office Statistician Girish, Rampur School Teacher Dinesh and Natanahalli Shekar.

Thieves decamped with Rs.24,000 cash from Girish's house, 25 grams of gold ornaments, one kg silver ornaments and Rs.60,000 cash from Dinesh's House and 48 grams of gold ornaments, 40 grams of silver ornaments and Rs.11,000 cash from Shekar's house.

The incident came to light after owners of these houses returned home from their trip and alerted the Police. On receipt of information, a team of Police, led by CPI P.K. Raju and Sub-Inspector Subramanya along with Dog Squad and Finger Print Experts, visited the spot.

House burgled
in broad daylight

In another incident in H.D. Kote, thieves decamped with Rs.1.5 lakh cash and 50 grams of gold ornaments after breaking open the lock of the house of Natesh at Judges Colony in Jayapura Police Station limits.

The incident took place yesterday afternoon between 12 noon and 3 pm in this isolated colony when the owner of the house had gone to work. Natesh works as a Manager in a Garage in Mysuru.

On receipt of complaint, Jayapura Police, along with Dog Squad and Finger Print Experts, visited the spot.

Mysore University comes to city Heptathlete's help

Funds M.R. Dhanusha for World Meet

Mysuru, Apr.27- M.R. Dhanusha, the 19-year-old Heptathlete from University of Mysore (UoM), is the only girl who is qualified to represent India at the 30th Summer Universiade World Athletic Championships-2019 scheduled to be held in Napoli, Italy, between July 3 and 14.

For her participation in the Meet, Dhanusha had to remit Rs.2.26 lakh and under the instructions of the UoM VC Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar, the Varsity has paid the required amount to the organisers. This has now enabled Dhanusha to take part in the Meet.

Dhanusha, a first year BBA student at Basudeva Somani FGC, is the daughter of autorickshaw driver Manju and Rukmini from K.R. Nagar of Mysuru.

This gesture by the UoM in encouraging the athlete will also inspire other sports persons to touch greater heights in different sporting disciplines.

The 32-year-old Spaniard made his 12th Barcelona semi-final on Friday, overcoming the big-hitting Struff 7-5, 7-5 on Pista Rafa Nadal.

KRS Sluice Gates to be replaced

at a cost of Rs. 69 crore World Bank aid

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (RK&BCT)- For the first time in the history of the iconic Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, all the 136 sluice/ crest gates out of the total 153 will be replaced. The reservoir, constructed across River Cauvery, was conceived and executed by Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar and Sir M. Visvesvaraya in November 1911 and completed in 1931-32.

In all, there are 153 sluice gates (also called crest gates or surplus sluices) in the Dam at various levels through which water is released and in 2003, 17 sluice gates at 80 feet level were replaced as they were either corroded or damaged. Now, the authorities have taken up the replacement project where 136 gates will be replaced.

WORLD BANK AID

The project is being taken up with the financial support of the State government and the World Bank under the Dam Rehabilitation and Improvement Project and the World Bank has released a financial aid of Rs. 69 crore which the State Government will repay in stages as per the understanding.

There are 17 crest gates at 80 feet level, 40 at 106 feet level, 48 at 103 feet level and another 48 gates at 114 feet level taking the total up to 153. The Dam is 2.62 kilometres long and this is for the first time such a major overhaul is being taken up said sources at Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL).

Officials of Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited seen taking up the work of cleaning sluice gates at Krishna Raja Sagar Dam.

GATE CATEGORIES

These 153 crest gates have been divided into three categories such as River Sluices, which are the lowest level gates used to release water into the river in critical situations; Irrigation Sluices, three gates each in north and south directions, which are above River Sluices and Storing Sluices or Silt Gates, which are not being used now.

EXPERT TEAM

A separate Expert Engineers Team and Technical Experts Team have been constituted under the leadership of Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL) Chief Engineer Shivaprasad and Retired Superintending Engineer, Irrigation Department Vijay Kumar.

The design and pattern of the sluice gates replacement project has been approved by the World Bank. "We have received three applications for technical bid to implement the project and of them, one is a foreign company. We need to examine the technical know-how, expertise, experience of the bidders before allotting the works," sources in CNNL told Star of Mysore.

The project is likely to begin in the first week of May and it will take over one-and-a-half years for the project to complete as factors like rain, water storage levels and monsoon forecast have to be taken into consideration.

MAINTENANCE WORKS

At present, the authorities have taken up the work of cleaning the sluice gates. With the water level standing at 89 feet (of the maximum water level of 124.4) in the Dam, a team of CNNL engineers have taken up maintenance works. As part of the maintenance work, gate experts along with the operators are removing rust from crest gates, apply grease, give a fresh coat of paint, undertake welding, oiling, movement verification, etc. The works also include greasing of the trolleys and the chains that bind the gates.

Weeds on the Dam are also being cleared and over 30 employees are on the job. Maintenance works would be completed before the monsoon begins and it is a regular process. According to CNNL officials, safety examination of the canal sluice gates, turbine sluice gates, machinery used to pull them, and other structures has been completed and now works on greasing the machinery attached to the gates are on, officials said.

The maintenance works are being carried out under the supervision of CNNL Assistant Engineer, Kishore, Junior Engineer Radha, Assistant Executive Engineer C. Vasudeva and In-charge Executive Engineer Ramakrishna.

Soon after the meeting, the Mysuru Hoteliers' Association issued a set of instructions to hotels and lodges to comply with the measures as suggested by the Police Department.

Association President C. Narayanagowda warned hoteliers against the possibilities of terrorists in the guise of tourists booking rooms in advance only to sneak into the city. To prevent such activities, metal detectors should be installed to frisk customers before allotting rooms.

Along with the city Police, the State Intelligence Wing is also on high alert in Mysuru following the terror attack in Sri Lanka. There are over 40 intelligence men in Mysuru headed by SP B.T. Kavitha. "Directions have been issued to us to keep a close watch on new visitors and people moving with bag and baggage in a suspicious manner in crowded places including religious establishments and on special festival occasions," Kavitha told Star of Mysore.

The local intelligence team will closely coordinate with the State Wing who in turn will keep in touch with National Intelligence Agency. All local happenings will be reported to the State Wing and alerts are issued to teams to increase their vigil on suspects, Kavitha added.

City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna told SOM that the State Railway Police personnel are closely coordinating with the Central Railway Police Force in screening visitors.

City tourists cancel Lanka tickets, head to Bangkok

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (RK&NNN)- There are a few tourists from the city who had planned their holidays in Sri Lanka. But after the serial bomb blasts that rocked the island nation last Sunday, they are scared to visit the country and have cancelled their flight tickets and instead chosen to go to Bangkok.

Nearly 30 to 50 such tourists who had booked with a few tour organisers have cancelled their tickets. Speaking to Star of Mysore, this morning, B.S. Prashanth of Spice Trip Travels said that there were six to seven members of a family who had booked their flight tickets to Sri Lanka with him but now they had changed their plans and instead were keen to go to Bangkok which is also a good tourist destination.

He however, pointed out that a few of them also had cancelled their tickets and instead preferred to stay back than go on a vacation, after the gruesome Easter Sunday attack in Sri Lanka where more than 300 people were killed.

GRS Snow Park Opens

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh inaugurates Park in GRS Fantasy Park premises

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh seated on the Snow Man sledge drawn by Husky-look-alike dogs.

Mysuru, Apr.27 (YDS&NNN)- One cannot dream of experiencing snow in our city and for that we have to go all the way to the Himalayas, either to Kashmir or Shimla. However, Mysureans need not have to go that far now and instead experience the snow in all its chilly glory right here at the Snow Park.

The GRS Snow Park, right besides the GRS Fantasy Park on the Ring Road in Metagalli, was opened yesterday for the public. GRS Snow Park is an entertainment complex spread across an area of 40,000 square feet with an integrated restaurant and ample parking space.

The snow park boasts of a snow play area of 12,000 square feet, which is one of the largest in the country. The park has been designed with an inside temperature of -8°C to -10°C for the first time in the country.

When the customer walks into the snow area he is welcome by one foot of pure white snow made from edible water, under his foot. The management of the park has installed special RO plants in order to create pure ice and snow without any added chemicals.

GRS Snow Park has been themed realistically and has drawn inspiration from the icy mountains of Alps and Himalayas. Customers inside the snow park can have the experience of being in a valley surrounded by snow capped mountains, with slides carved out of stone and ice.

Artisans from all across the world were involved in the theming of the Snow Park. One of the main attractions, the frozen multi-lane slide has been themed to be carved out by the side of a frozen mountain with frozen trees.

GRS Snow Park also boasts of India's longest Indoor Suspension Bridge, The Alpine Hanging Bridge, spanning a length of over 70ft at a height of 25ft off the ground. The other adventure attractions at GRS Snow Park are Pine Log Cabin, Hurricane Slide, Snow Carousel and Arctic Net Climb.

Amongst the other attractions is the Frozen Cafe which has been carved in the side of the Blizzard Slide tower. There is also a disco floor. Customers are served hot coffee and hot tea while experiencing -10°C. Another speciality of this cafe is the fact that all the chairs and tables here are made of ice.

Each show at GRS Snow Park will be one-hour-long and it is open from 11 am to 7 pm. Customers will be provided specially made jackets, boots and gloves. Cleanliness and hygiene are maintained using machines which disinfect and dehumidify the garments before it is provided to the next customer.

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, speaking after inaugurating the Snow Park yesterday said, "The tourists visiting Mysuru visit the tourist places and return the same day. If tourism has to develop then the tourists should stay here for at least two days. That was the reason why Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy said that KRS has to be developed along Disneyland lines. However, there were a few pro and anti discussions on the issue."

Chamundi Hill is being developed at a cost of Rs.50 crore under the PRASAD (Pilgrimage Rejuvenation and Spirituality Augumentation Drive) scheme which is an initiative of the Central Government. Along with this even in the Karnataka Exhibition Authority a Rs.150 crore project will be designed and developed, he said.

If hotels and business has to improve then novel schemes and projects are required. The aim of such projects should not be just for making money but it should be done with the idea of providing something new to the community, he added.

Twenty years ago GRS Fantasy Park was set up in city and today it has added something new which is the Snow Park. This will help in the development of tourism as there are many new things here not found in other entertainment centres in the country. The Government will also cooperate for such fresh initiatives, said Mahesh.

Star of Mysore Managing Editor Vikram Muthanna, who was the guest of honour, lauded the efforts of GRS management in launching a Snow Park.

MUDA Chairman Vijaykumar, Baliga Investments Pvt Ltd. Chairman Subraya Baliga, Pushpalatha Baliga, Maj. Gen. S.G. Vombatkere (Retd.), GRS Fantasy Park Directors Yogesh Dange, Dayanand Kudva, Manjunath Nayak, Business Head Ashwin Dange, Operations Head Balakrishna Kini and others were present.

It may be recalled that a similar "Snow City Theme Park" was opened recently in Nazarbad at Regency Theatre on Lokranjan Mahal Road near Mysuru Zoo.
